

Major Morbidity

Major Morbidity is classified as the presence of one or more of the following;

- Intensive care admission and / or ventilation
- Dialysis and / or renal impairment
- Major haemorrhage from transfusion-induced coagulopathy
- Evidence of Intravascular haemolysis
- Potential risk of anti-D sensitisation in a female of childbearing potential
- Persistent viral infection
- Acute symptomatic confirmed infection
- Reaction resulting in a low or high haemoglobin level of a degree sufficient to cause risk to life without immediate medical intervention